

The Associated Press announced today that its nationwide poll of movie picture reviewers picked "High Noon" as the best movie of 1952.

Best starring actor was Gary Cooper, in the same picture; and the best supporting actor was Barry Fitzgerald, who played the role of the marriage broker in "The Quiet Man." Best supporting actress was Thelma Ritter in "With a Song in My Heart," the film story of Jane Froman's life.

Of the four nationwide selections, "High Noon" was the best picture; Gary Cooper in "High Noon" as the best starring actor; and Barry Fitzgerald in "The Quiet Man" as the best supporting actor. In the fourth classification, best supporting actress, we picked Katy Jurado, new player who took the role of the hotel woman in "High Noon."

While your editor cast the newspaper's ballot based on our reviews of both "High Noon" and "The Quiet Man" in this column at the time the pictures played in Hope, the ballot was drawn in consultation with Paul H. Jones, managing editor, and Eldon Coffman, manager of the Sanger theater.

There was no question in our minds but what the choice for No. 1 picture lay between "High Noon" and "The Quiet Man." But it seemed to me that "High Noon" not only met all the specifications of a perfect play — a single theme, enacted in one scene, within 24 hours — but it was an original and devastating story: A community's refusal to stand behind one man of endurance and courage.

"The Quiet Man" was a magnificent portrayal of the Irish homeland theme, but this had been done in many pictures before. The AP poll, like our own calculation, put "The Quiet Man" a close second, 40 votes to "High Noon's" 47. Third was "The Greatest Show on Earth," with 22; and fourth was "The Snows of Kilimanjaro," with 12. Neither of the latter two have played here.

TOKYO, (UP) — American officials said today that Chinese Communists might be laying the groundwork for a propaganda "spy trial" of 11 American airmen shot down in a B-29 near the Manchurian border Jan. 12.

Three other crew members were killed when the plane was attacked. The 11 survivors parachuted to safety.

Peiping radio, Red propaganda organ, said the plane was shot down over Korea and that the 11 officers and men who parachuted out of it were "special agents sent by the U. S. government" to "organize sabotage."

The U. S. Air Force said the plane was attacked by enemy fighters 15 miles south of the Yalu River, well within Korean territory, but could have crashed-landed in Manchuria after being crippled and downed by enemy bullets.

The Air Force said the 14 crewmen were on a psychological warfare mission, dropping leaflets over North Korean cities.

It was feared that whatever might happen to the 11 U. S. flyers might develop into a touchy diplomatic situation.

The U. S. had not recognized Red China, so there are no diplomatic relations between the two countries. China is not formally at war in Korea, contending troops there are "volunteers."

The Peiping broadcast charging the 11 Americans were spies also accused the United Nations of murdering war prisoners, delaying the armistice and engaging in bacteriological warfare.

Tells Farmers They Must Help Selves

"We should be ever conscious of maintaining economy in our government," declared Waldo Frasier, Little Rock, executive secretary of the Arkansas Farm Bureau Federation, here today.

Speaking to approximately 90 farmers, here from ten counties in this area, Mr. Frasier urged his audience to be realistic about farm problems. The farmers, who were attending a district Farm Bureau leaders' membership meeting in the courthouse, heard Mr. Frasier call for more self-help on the part of farmers. He pointed out that they should not become dependent on government subsidies to supplement their income.

He predicted that certain government employees would attempt to create problems for Farm Bureau while the organization carried out its membership drive this year. "The attempts by the federal lobby to smear Farm Bureau emphasizes Continued on Page Two

U. S. Jets Shoot Down 4, Damage 9 Enemy Planes

By ROBERT UDICK
SEOUL, Korea (UP) — American Sabrejets shot down or damaged 13 Communist MIG-15s today and smashed the Reds' attempt to halt a 100-plane Allied fighter-bomber strike 10 miles south of the North Korean capital of Pyongyang.

It was one of the MIGs rare attempts to disrupt Allied attacks so far south and marked the third straight day of a MIG-killing rampage during which the Sabres have destroyed 14 and damaged 10. They knocked down four today and damaged nine to make their January toll 31 destroyed, five probably destroyed and 36 damaged.

MIGs swarmed down from their Manchurian bases in a vain attempt to intercept fighter-bombers attacking a rail tunnel and anti-aircraft positions.

Thirty-five Sabres ripped through formations totaling 50 MIGs. Capt. Olphine D. Overton III, Andrews, S. C., downed one MIG, his fourth in three days.

Ground fighting flared briefly on the Western front where South Korean troops backed by tanks, artillery and fighter-bombers, charged to the crest of Big Nori Hill northwest of Yonchon.

They withdrew an hour and 35 minutes later after killing an estimated 85 Reds.

Ground action elsewhere was light.

President Calls in Cabinet

WASHINGTON, (UP) — President Eisenhower and most of the new Cabinet sat down in the White House today for their first formal session.

Eisenhower himself got to the office at 8:25 a.m. and Cabinet members began arriving around 9:45 for their 10 o'clock meeting.

Members stood around and chatted for a few moments, waiting for the last arrivals, then shut the door and got down to business.

With Charles E. Wilson not yet cleared into the official family, the Defense Department was represented by W. J. McNell.

McNeil, an assistant secretary of defense in the Truman administration, is now the department's ranking official and acting secretary.

The first big problem to confront the new Republican regime may have been solved last night when Wilson, at a White House meeting with Eisenhower, agreed to dispose of his 2½ million dollars worth of General Motors stock. The President then formally nominated him to be secretary of defense.

Three Wildcat Oil Tests Being Eyed With Interest

Three wildcat oil tests, two in Hempstead, are being watched with interest by local oilmen.

Exploration Drilling Company of Dallas is expected to complete a shallow test this week about two miles northeast of Ozan. If this test fails another probably will be drilled a few miles north of the site. Drillers are expected to go to 2800 feet.

On the Bodew Bank No. 3, SW NE of 33-14-23, just inside the Hempstead county line, operators are drilling beyond 3,500 feet.

Wheeler Drilling Co. of Shreveport set 1200 feet of casing yesterday on the Austin Foster wildcat in SW corner of 9-15-25 in Lafayette County. Drillers are prepared to go 7,200 feet.

Eight Held for P. O. Burglaries

SHREVEPORT, La., (AP) — Eight persons are held in connection with the burglary of four Texas post-offices and cashing of forged money orders in 10 states.

George T. Heaberg Jr., postal inspector from Ft. Worth, said yesterday three persons involved were J. R. Turner, 31, of Nottices, Texas, and an escaped convict charged with the burglaries in Texas; Kaune Dyson, 20, of Odessa, Texas, charged with cashing forged money orders in Texas and New Mexico; and Robert Adams, 31, of Tracy City, Tenn., charged in Shreveport with attempting cashing of a forged money order.

Adams arrest in Shreveport led to the arrest of Turner and the woman. Adams was placed under $5,000 bond.

Heaberg said Turner and the woman were scheduled to appear before the U. S. Commissioner today for a hearing in extradition proceedings.

"I'm sorr-eeeee. He's in Yur-rup."

"He's in kindergarten. He won't be in the firm until next year."

"I'm sorr-eeeee. Mr. Smathers is on the other phone." Smathers is calling up a pal about lunch.

Accused Slayer Head to Take Mental Test

DES ARC, Ark., (AP) — James W. Head was to be committed to the Arkansas State (Mental) Hospital at Little Rock following his arraignment on first degree murder charges here yesterday.

Both Head and his wife, Linda, were arraigned on the charges in the death of their 5-year-old foster child, Mary Wolfe.

Neither entered pleas, but John D. Thweatt, Mrs. Head's attorney, said a plea of innocent would be entered for her when Prosecutor J. B. Reed delivers a bill of particulars requested yesterday.

Head's court-appointed attorney Joe K. Caskey, said he would enter a plea for the 47-year-old defendant when he is released from the Little Rock institution.

The charges were filed by Reed when searchers recovered the body of Mary from a barrel on the Head farm here Dec. 30. A coroner's jury returned a verdict of death by drowning.

Reed has quoted both Mr. and Mrs. Head as blaming the other for the child's death.

Head was arrested at Concordia, Kans., earlier this month after leaving Des. Arc the day before the body was discovered.

Looks Like Age of Two Phones on Every Desk — One for Office Business, One for Personal

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP) — Many a giant industrial deal has been closed by telephone.

Today that is done only in romantic movies. In real life it is now all but impossible. The phone network in the average office is feared for business — but it's money business.

Suppose, for example, you want to place an emergency $1,000,000 order with Smith & Sons, nutmeg grater manufacturers. You dial the number, thinking how grateful old "Grater" Smith will be.

"I'm sorr-eeeee. Busy?"

"I'm sorr-eeeee. He just got another call." Old Smith is listening to his son, phoning from "Yur-rup," explain why he needs more entertainment money. He says he's hot on the trail of a big foreign order.

You hang on for two hours, still grimly trying to break through the phone barrier. Finally, you say limply:

"Honey, all I want to no is to give your firm a $1,000,000 order. Can't you take it yourself?"

"I'm sorr-eeeee. I have another call coming in. Do you care to wait?" And as you hang up screaming, she flips a switch and

Blizzard Is Moving Across Panhandle

AMARILLO, Tex., (AP) — A shallow but vicious norther — packing a heavyweight punch — blew from the Panhandle-plains area deep into the Texas midlands today.

Power and telephone lines and poles sagged and snapped under the weight of ice and snow in the Panhandle where a dangerous glaze of ice made driving "extremely hazardous."

The snowfall ranged from 2-3 inches at Lubbock to around 10 inches at Akin.

Hundreds of motorists sought refuge in farm homes already crowded in some instances by school children who couldn't make it home after buses stalled in deep snow-drifts.

The highway patrol warned that "extremely hazardous driving conditions" existed from the top of the Panhandle to extreme East Texas and the Upper Gulf Coast. Where there was no ice or snow in the region, drenching rains and winds of almost hurricane force had battered the countryside.

House Passes Fiscal Code, Senate Balks

LITTLE ROCK, (AP) — Gov. Francis Cherry told his news conference today that he expected his Fiscal Code Bill to pass the General Assembly "substantially as written."

Cherry was asked if he thought the bill would go through the Senate without amendment as it did yesterday in the House by a vote of 87 to nothing.

By RAY STEPHENS
LITTLE ROCK, (AP) — Arkansas senators indicated today that they were far from satisfied with Gov. Francis Cherry's complex plan to remodel the state's financial setup.

A poll of senators showed that the upper chamber is of no mind to give the 62-page fiscal code bill a blue ribbon without a little blue penciling.

Sen. Ellis Fagan of Little Rock, a powerful figure on the Senate floor, told Cherry at a hearing on the bill yesterday that he intends to attempt to amend the bill. Several of Fagan's colleagues indicated Continued on Page Two

Woman Freed by a Faulty Memory

TEXARKANA — A faulty memory cleared a 26-year-old woman in Arkansas City Court Thursday on a charge of driving off a car without the owner's consent.

The woman was Miss Juanita Hilton.

In court Thursday, Carlton J. Valentine, of Hope, owner of the car, claimed he was "too drunk" to recall whether or not he allowed Miss Hilton to drive his car away from a tourist camp Wednesday.

Valentine had made a complaint to police, according to Police Chief Max Tackett, that a woman camped had taken his car without his permission. Miss Hilton was arrested downtown. She had the car keys in her possession. She contended Valentine gave her permission but was drinking and probably was "too far gone" to recall having done so. Valentine said he "might have" complained to police that she took the car.

Police said Valentine was anxious to drop charges after the car was recovered. Miss Hilton was released because of insufficient evidence, but Municipal Judge Will Steel fined Valentine $10 and costs for being drunk in public.

Move Started to Revamp Game Group

LITTLE ROCK, (AP) — Rep. George Holmes of Cleveland County said today that 51 members of the House had signed a pledge to vote against any appropriation for the Game and Fish Commission unless the Commission meets preconditions laid down by the legislators.

Holmes' group could block any appropriation.

The conditions, the same that the Legislative Council at one time tried to impose on the Commission, are:

1. The present regulating for a hunting license and hunting dog licenses for squirrel and rabbit hunters be repealed.

2. The Commission issue hunting and fishing licenses to persons over 65 without charge. A 1951 act called for such a practice but the Commission which has broad powers to make its own regulations under a constitutional amendment has not followed the act.

3. The Commission repeal its regulation assuming jurisdiction over commercial fish farming on private property.

Holmes declined to identify signers of the pledge other than himself.

Prison Riot Ends, Reprisal Being Studied

BELLEFOUNTE, Pa., (AP) — The state's highest officials set out today to determine what, if any, action, to take against 325 rebel convicts who gave in meekly last night and freed six guards hostages, after holding out stubbornly in their barred cells at Rockview prison for 72 hours.

The defiant prisoners — fewer than half the number that revolted on Monday, avowedly for better food and a more liberal parole policy — surrendered unconditionally in response to "got tough" orders of Gov. John S. Fine.

The collapse of the insurrection was hastened by an ever tightening ring of heavily armed state police and the unrelenting roar of National Guard fighter planes over Rockview, which is a unit of Western state penitentiary.

None of the captives had been harmed. But one was near the stage of exhaustion.

Eisenhower's Son 'Quite Perplexed'

HIGHLAND FALLS, N.Y., (UP) — Maj. John Eisenhower said today he was "quite perplexed" over his recall from Korea to attend his father's inauguration until he learned that former President Truman had ordered him home.

"It was very kind of Mr. Truman and I appreciate his thoughtfulness," young Eisenhower said. "It was a complete surprise."

President Eisenhower was reported to have told Mr. Truman the major was "raising hell" about being granted a 15-day leave. Young Eisenhower felt embarrassed about receiving the special privilege.

The major and his wife arrived home here last night from Washington. He will return to Korea next Wednesday.

Cigarette Trades Law Repeal Asked

LITTLE ROCK, (AP) — House Judiciary Committee No. 1 is recommending that the Arkansas House pass a bill to repeal the cigarette fair trades law.

In a meeting last night, the committee also recommended passage of a measure to require a 30-day "cooling off" period on divorce cases.

Repeal of the fair trades law would restore to merchants the right to set minimum prices on cigarettes.

The divorce bill would require a 30-day wait between the filing of the divorce action and the granting of a decree.

Pearson-Robertson Rehearsal Dinner Held
Dr. and Mrs. J. W. Branch entertained members of the Pearson-Robertson wedding party with a rehearsal dinner at their home on South Main Saturday night, January 17.

The dinner was served buffet style to the following: Miss Shirley Pearson, Lowell Robertson, W. O. Pearson, Mr. and Mrs. S. A. Whitlow, Mr. and Mrs. Dick Watkins, Miss Aileen Jester, Mrs. Harold Higginson, Jr., Miss Neva McClellan, Miss Alice Pearson, Little Misses Martha Kaye Pearson and Myra Sue Smith, Tommy Robertson, Lee Norton, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Nelson, Berrian Bell, Paul McClellan, and the host and hostess.

Miss Pearson and Mr. Robertson chose at this time to present the members of the wedding party with gifts.

Miss Shirley Pearson Weds Lowell Robertson
A wedding of interest was that of Miss Shirley Ann Pearson and Lowell Robertson of this city which was solemnized Sunday, January 18, at the First Baptist Church with the Reverend S. A. Whitlow officiating. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Pearson of Fort Smith and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Neil Robertson of Cabot.

The double ring ceremony was performed before an altar decorated with white candles in seven-branched candelabra and flanked on either side with jade trees and floor baskets of calla lilies.

Before the ceremony, Dr. James W. Branch, organist, rendered a program of nuptial music and Mrs. Dick Watkins sang "O Perfect Love" and "I Love You Truly." The traditional wedding marches were used.

The bride given in marriage by her father wore a gown of white slipper satin and chantly lace. The fitted sleeves ended in puffed points. Her fingertip veil of illusion fell from a tiny cap of lace embroidered in seed pearls. She carried a white Bible topped with an orchid and surrounded by white satin loveknits and Stephanotis.

Candlelighters were Miss Aileen Jester and Mrs. Harold Higginson, Jr. Miss Jester wore a ballerina length dress of lavender nylon net over tulle and Mrs. Higginson wore a dress of yellow nylon over tulle. They each had wristlets and bandeaus of violets.

Proceeding the bride to the altar were her attendants. Mrs. Bill Barnwell of Fort Smith, matron of honor, was attired in a ballerina length dress of blue nylon net over satin. Similar dresses of heavenly pink and moss green were worn by the bridesmaids, Miss Neva McClellan of Hope, and Miss Alice Pearson, sister of the bride, of Fort Smith. Each of the attendants carried a colonial bouquet of daisies and wore a bandeau of violets.

Little Misses Martha Kaye Pearson, sister of the bride, and Myra Sue Smith, cousin of the bride, of Fort Smith, and junior bridesmaids wore identical dresses of teal blue and carried colonial bouquets of daisies.

Tommy Robertson, of Cabot, served his brother as best man. Groomsman were Lee Norton, of Hope, and Bill Nelson of Little Rock. Ushers were George White of Fort Smith, Dorman Bell and Paul McClellan of Hope.

Mrs. Pearson chose for her daughter's wedding a light blue wool suit with navy and white accessories. She wore a white gardenia corsage.

Mrs. Robertson wore a navy blue crepe dress with navy accessories. Her corsage was of white gardenias.

Immediately following the ceremony a reception was held at the Rainbow Hotel. The table was covered with a white lace cloth and decorated with crystal candelabra. The three tiered wedding cake encircled with pink roses and lilies of the valley was topped with a tiny bride and groom under a lace wedding bell.

Mrs. James W. Branch cut the cake and Mrs. Elmer Murph served the punch. Mrs. John L. Mills presided at the guest book.

For travel the bride wore a navy blue wool suit with navy and white accessories. She planned the orchid from her bridal bouquet at her shoulder.

After a wedding trip the couple will be at home in Hope where Mr. Robertson is employed and Mrs. Robertson is a laboratory and X-Ray technician at Branch General Hospital.

Out of town guests were: Mr. and Mrs. Neil Robertson, Tommy and Gary, of Cabot, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Nelson of Little Rock, Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Pearson, Alice and Martha, Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Making copper planters was the demonstration given when the Melrose Club met for their January meeting in the home of Mrs. H. E. Patterson.

The president, Mrs. Patterson, called the meeting to order and gave the devotional using Psalm 121. She then offered prayer for the new year.

Year books and the new song books "Arkansas Sings" were distributed. The duties of community leaders were discussed. The following leaders were chosen for the coming year:

Garden and orchard, Mrs. Jesse McCorkle; poultry, Mrs. R. C. Sparks; clothing, Mrs. Otha Roberts and Mrs. J. W. McAdams; foods, Mrs. J. R. Neece; food preservation, Mrs. Doyle Rogers and Mrs. Thelma Meadows; child development, Mrs. Perry Henley; home industry, Mrs. Wess Henley; home management, Mrs. H. E. Patterson and Mrs. Jewel Sull; home grounds, Mrs. Glenon Huckabee and Mrs. J. M. Hockett; health and safety, Mrs. J. F. Mangrum.

A report was made by those attending the officers training meeting. The group voted to contribute five dollars to the March of Dimes. The membership drive was discussed with members contributing ideas as to be used. The vice-president, Mrs. Perry Henley, is in charge of this campaign.

Mrs. J. R. Neece won the surprise package. The games under direction of the recreational leader, Mrs. Jewel Still, was won by Mrs. J. M. Hockett.

The hostess served a sandwich plate and drinks to those attending. The next meeting will be with Mrs. Perry Henley. The demonstration given will be on rug making.

Columbus
Food and Nutrition was the subject for study when the Columbus Home Demonstration Club met on Monday, January 19, in the school lunchroom.

Mrs. Lorraine Blackwood, Home Demonstration Agent, pointed out that most people eat enough food to supply the fuel they need for the body's energy and warmth, but they may not be well nourished because their food does not provide materials for the building and repairing of the body. Nor does it provide regulators that enable the body to use the fuel foods and the building and repairing materials efficiently. Mrs. Blackwood also explained the 7 basic foods.

Mrs. B. C. Webb president, called the meeting to order. The creed was repeated, and Mrs. Fred Caldwell led the group in the song

No Companions

Dear Miss Dix: I am very lonely, especially on week-ends when I sit at home all day and see the girls next door go out for a good time. I just sit home, thinking maybe something will happen, but nothing does.

Join Clubs And Get Around

Answer: You can be assured, no excitement ever will come while you just sit dejectedly at home. You live in a fine, thriving, progressive city and I'm sure there are numberless sources of activity there. Stop sitting home feeling sorry for yourself and go out and do something! Get acquainted with the girls next door and find out what they do with their time. Join a bowling club, a swimming club, a ping-pong club! Take a course at night school, acquire a hobby, like stamp collecting, photography, or ceramics. Take dancing lessons, singing lessons with a choral group. If you can't locate these places through the classified pages of your telephone book, or through your newspaper, get in touch with the Adult Education Department of your Board of Education. There is, absolutely no reason why any one should sit at home and be lonely, for day-dreaming will never bring friends; you must go out and make them yourself.

Dear Miss Dix, I'm a young man of 24, deeply in love with a girl of 17. She likes me but goes out with other boys more than she does with me. How can I stop her from seeing these other boys?
Answer: Your young lady is too young to be thinking seriously of someone seven years her senior. If you care for her, let her continue going with other boys, but make yourself sufficiently interesting so that in time she'll regard you more seriously. Better still, widen your own circle of friends and go out with other girls closer to you in age.

Dear Miss Dix: My problem is one of age — and an unusual one. When I was four years old, my mother wanted me to begin school, but since five was the minimum age, she juggled records and had me admitted. Now, although I am 15, everyone thinks I'm 16, and I was just given a sweet sixteen party at which I received many nice gifts. I'm afraid if my true age is revealed, I'll be put back a year in school.

Answer: It's doubtful if you'll be put back a class now, because of "America." Mrs. Frank Delaney read the devotional and led the Lord's Prayer. Mrs. J. E. Delaney called the roll, read the minutes and gave the treasurer's report. A project for the club year was discussed and home improvement was adopted. The club will meet in the homes this year.

The following leaders were appointed by the president for 1953: Garden and Orchard, Mrs. Frank Delaney, Poultry Mrs. Leo Evans, Dairy Mrs. Fred Caldwell, Clothing, Mrs. Fred Caldwell, Foods and Nutrition, Mrs. Jack Thompson, Food Preservation, Mrs. B. C. Webb, Child Development, and Family Life, Mrs. Horace Ellen, Home Industry, Mrs. J. E. Delaney, Home Management, Mrs. R. F. Caldwell, Home Grounds, Mrs. T. M. McCorkle, Recreation, Mrs. T. M. McCorkle, Mrs. Walter Evans, Health and Safety, Mrs. J. E. Delaney, Service book committee includes Mrs. Leo Evans and Mrs. J. E. Delaney.

Mrs. T. M. McCorkle and Mrs. B. C. Webb served as hostesses to 11 members and Mrs. Blackwood. Mrs. McCorkle led the group in a very interesting game with Mrs. Evans winning the prize. The next meeting will be in the home of Mrs. J. E. Delaney.

Plans Bill to Hike Tax on Resources

By RAY STEPHENS

LITTLE ROCK, (AP) — Legislation to halt the "robbery of Arkansas' natural resources" by boosting severance taxes will be introduced in the Senate in a few days.

Sen. Jack V. Clark of Texarkana said last night he intended to offer a bill, probably early next week, to bring the severance taxes "in line with those charged in adjoining states."

Clark, a 40-year-old insurance executive, said that a low severance tax on natural resources "is one of the main reasons why" Arkansas is "so poor."

As an example, he cited the Arkansas severance tax of four per cent of market value on oil. This compares with a graduated scale ranging from 18 to 20 cents per barrel in Louisiana; 4.6 per cent of value if it exceeds $1 a barrel, or 4.6 per cent and three sixteenths of one cent per barrel in Texas; and 5 per cent plus one eighth of a cent per barrel in Oklahoma.

Twenty-four bills were introduced in the Senate, including measures to:

1. Revamp the unemployment compensation program, raising the maximum weekly benefit to $25, and tightening the qualification requirements.
2. Provide for the election of the State Board of Education, which now is appointed by the governor.
3. Prohibit the sale of merchandise at below cost to lure customers.
4. Authorize the ending of a

Doctors See More Injuries in Football

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Those two-platoon football adherents who claim its abolition will bring an increase in grid injuries were told they're wrong today by a man who should know.

Dr. Floyd R. Eastwood, chairman of the Committee on Injuries and Fatalities for the American Football Coaches Association, has made a 20-year study in continuing efforts to reduce accidents.

"I don't expect any increase in injuries or fatalities as a direct result of the elimination of the two-platoon system," he said. "And there may be a decrease. Fatigue is not the main factor in football injuries. Lack of adequate warmup is more a factor."

Dr. Eastwood, associate dean of students at Los Angeles State College, said the greatest number of fatalities and probably injuries occur during the first five minutes after a player enters a game.

"Statistics point to most injuries in action following lack of adequate warmup," he said. "The average college player in the game for the entire time will be in concentrated action for only 12 minutes. Thus you don't have the fatigue element such as a runner would have at the end of a half-mile race."

In the 21st annual survey of football fatalities which Dr. Eastwood submitted to the coaches association last year, covering secondary high school and college play, he stated:

"Recently, with the free substitution rule and defensive aid of offensive platoon system, a reduction of fatalities has not been substantially affected."

And he said today this statement applies also to injuries.

THE CZAR'S WORTH

The anti-Semitism of Joe Stalin is nothing novel. He displayed it during the Hitler-Stalin alliance when he dismissed Litvinov because he was a Jew.

Why does Stalin propagandize his hatred for the Jews at the present time? There is much speculation on the subject. Some believe it is done to please the Arabs, who are not likely to be taken in because Moslems are a religious people, are uncompromising in their love for God and the prophet, Mohammed. They will not risk association with the arch-enemy who competes with God, who has icons of himself carried in parades, who demands adoration and worship of himself, who insists that he is omnipotent and that his decisions on all questions from linguistics to philosophy, from party politics to world affairs, are perfect, beyond discussion and beyond doubt. The Arab will not fall for that.

Some believe that Stalin is having domestic troubles and that his throne is endangered. There seems to be no evidence of that, although the Korean War has been a failure in the sense that it gets nowhere and the conquest of Asia has been arrested.

Also, the fact that he has indicated who his successor is to be must have stirred the ambitions of others. Yet, it cannot be that in the privacy of the Politburo and the intrigues of the Kremlin it has been known for a long time that Malenkov was the favorite. He had for years been Stalin's secretary and heir-apparent and beloved even as a son. Whatever opposition to Malenkov appeared in one form or another must have been liquidated either by breaking the spirit of a man or killing him off.

It seems to me from a 36-year study of the Bolsheviks at work that what Stalin is bending up is an increased hatred against the United States. Shooting about "Wall Street" has become a theme to those who have to listen to it. And the charge that we throw bombs out of airplanes was a nine days' wonder.

And then the election went very wrong from Stalin's standpoint. No longer will the State Department blow hot and act cold and protect American Communists and spies in the United Nations or within the State Department itself. Certainly, nothing of that sort can be expected from John Foster Dulles, who started off by asking the FBI to investigate his own record as a pro-Communist. And Herbert Brownell, Jr. will not put blindfolds on the Department of Justice when Communists or subversives come before it. And it is likely that the FBI will come into its own and will be respected as to its authority. Stalin knows that when his spy, Arthur Adams, escaped from the United States, it was not because of the FBI's unawareness of the second-rate activities in this country.

My guess, no better or worse than anyone else's, is that Stalin is alarmed at the United States, whipping up a fear that certain Soviet citizens are acting not only as American spies but as American murderers. In a word, what he asserts is that the United States

Wyatt Worked Pokes to Best Grid Years

By JIM HOWARD

LARAMIE, Wyo., (UP)—Bowden Wyatt, the man who gave Wyoming its greatest football teams, takes on the task this week of doing the same kind of job for the University of Arkansas.

The handsome young coach, a former All-American at Tennessee, signed with Arkansas this week after being freed from his 10-year contract he held with Wyoming.

He will receive $12,000 a year from the Razorbacks. That's $2,000 a year more than Wyoming gave him, and he pulled the Cowboys to one of the prominent spots in the skyline conference.

During the 10 years before the 37-year-old coach took over, the Cowboys hadn't won more than three games a season. As late as the 1941, Utah slapped the Pokes around in a 60 to 6 game.

Wyatt, an advocate of the single-wing, built his system. In his first season the Cowboys lost five and won four, including a 53 to 6 win over Colorado Mines.

The building program produced the same kind of record in 1942, but in 1943 the payoff came for the hard-working Wyatt.

Pokes went through the season with nine victories and one defeat. Wyatt turned out in 1950 the team which stands as the greatest in Wyoming history. The team recorded 10 wins, including the "Cotton Bowl" championship over Washington and Lee. No team scored more than 13 points on the Pokes that year.

After that season, Wyatt was mentioned for jobs at Southern California and in the Midwest, but he stayed on the job to take the 1951 Cowboys eleven to seven wins, two losses and one tie. The Wyoming board of trustees then offered him a 10-year contract at $10,000 per year.

Then came the announcement that Wyatt was going to Arkansas. The Razorbacks stumbled through six Southwest conference games with only one victory last season, and Coach Olls Douglas resigned after three bad years.

John Barnhill, Arkansas athletic director and Wyatt's old coach at Tennessee, prompted him

Arkansas Sportettes

by CARL BELL

LITTLE ROCK, (AP)—Arkansas like their college basketball served hot, and that's the way they're getting it this year.

Virtually all of the AIC teams go all out on the fast break, fire-at-will style of play and say plenty to ball control and defense tactics.

Look at the points they're giving the customers for their money. Arkansas Tech's run-run-run Wonder Boys have averaged 93.8 per game on 10 titles—all victories, by the way.

State Teachers has a scoring mean of 83. Southern State has averaged better than 81 points an evening.

Even Ouachita, which has won only three of 12 games, is averaging 75 points.

Arkansas' Razorbacks have surpassed the 100-point mark twice in major competition, although Coach Glen Rose's shoot-and-follow system still is rather new to them. They played ball control under Presley Askew before this season.

And, for cage excitement, how about the Southwest Conference championship race?

They counted out Arkansas a week ago as the Razorbacks lost their first two league scraps.

Now, every team except Texas has been beaten at least twice and they're all in the running. The lead held by the Longhorns is a precarious one, indeed, for they have been dropped once.

The race is at the one-third mark, and usually at such a stage a clear-cut favorite has been established.

Rose was mighty unhappy about the Pokes' defeats at Texas and Texas A&M, but he didn't toss in the towel.

"We won't disgrace the school," he said as the team returned from the disappointing road trip.

So, what do his boys do next but bump off Rice and Baylor, each the Conference's leader at the time?

The '53 Razorbacks haven't attained greatness—a won-lost standpoint but they've displayed a characteristic of it: The ability to win the close ones.

Back in December a long shot by Carroll Scroggins as the game ended gave them a 1-point edge over Missouri. Even that feat was topped Monday night when the Pokes broke up a Baylor stall with 40 seconds to go and cashed in on five quick free throw to eliminate a 3-point deficit and win by two.

Dukes, Francis Pile Them In

By JOHN GRIFFIN

NEW YORK, (UP)—Walter Dukes and Clarence (Bevo) Francis, the two most talked-about giants in college basketball, each put to switch jobs.

The health of Wyatt's wife, Molly, demanded a change in climate and Wyatt himself indicated that the Razorback job offered a real challenge.

CHAPTER THIRTY-FOUR

AT A O'CLOCK Rudolph Peterson's car turned into the driveway. Dig, shining with chromium, polished gray—it seemed to flaunt its owner's importance.

Though he wore no such air—he had got out and was looking at the house with something of the shyness, the uncertainty, he had shown in church, the Sunday before.

"He doesn't know which door to go to," thought Deborah. She stepped out onto the porch and called to him. "This way—no one ever uses the front door. Come in."

He stood in the kitchen looking around it interestedly, a smile slowly breaking over his face. "Nice," he said. "I've never been in a kitchen like this—"

"Do you have a parlor?" said Deborah.

"But couldn't we sit out here? I like the smell of it!"

"Swedish coffee cake."

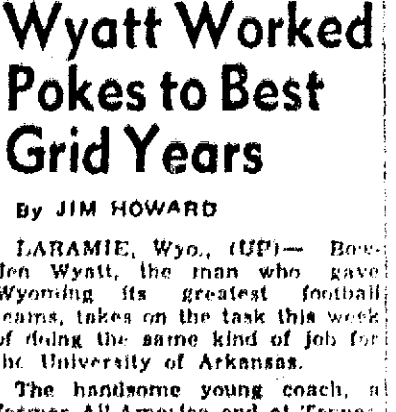

"Yes, I've heard that you were."

"I want a place to own it. Live in it and know it's mine, die in it. I never have had one. I've lived in rooming houses and hotels ever since I walked away from the logging camp. It's been a lonely way to live. Cities are lonely—people all around you, yet you know no one. That was one thing that drew me to this valley—"

"You did not go on with lumbering?"

"She did not make it a question for it was too obvious that he had not."

"The outfit failed. Good thing for me that it did. I was thrown on my own. I went to St. Paul and got a job of a sort. The only

The Ft. Smith Grizzlies, who won the regular season championship last year, are the undisputed leaders and only unbeaten team in the Big 7 High School Conference basketball race today.

But Pine Bluff gets a chance to regain first place tonight when it entertains the Grizzlies in the second of a 2-game series.

Ft. Smith's magnificent defense prevailed last night, and the Grizzlies whipped the Zebras, 34-28.

Pine Bluff scored only five field goals and trailed all the way.

Bill Wilson, Ft. Smith center, was high scorer with 14 points.

Other Conference games tonight pit Little Rock against North Little Rock and Hot Springs against El Dorado.

Seton Hall Mentor Fears Everyone

SOUTH ORANGE, N. J., (AP)—Remember the old line, "Stagg fears Purdue," that they used to quote when Amos Alonzo Stagg's Chicago football teams were strong and Purdue's weak?

Well, Henry Russell, coach of the undefeated Seton Hall basketball team, says, "I'd worry if we were playing the Nova Scotia (Nova Scotia) department."

The fire ladders, of course, are not among the 12 teams standing between the Hall and a perfect season.

"But anything can happen in basketball," he says, when you ask if his team, the only major unbeaten club in the nation, can go through without a loss.

"The toughest ones look like Villanova, St. Bonaventure, Siena—they're always tough for us, and our Western trip at the end with Loyola in Chicago, Dayton and Louisville. And I understand Dayton will be pointing for us after we beat them last week."

Russell, always a realist, already has taken steps to guard against his team being affected by its ranking as No. 1 team in the Associated Press poll. With his team scheduled to go after Nov. 19 against Memphis State tonight, he called the boys together yesterday and told them bluntly, "We want no inflated heads on this squad."

"I gave them examples, and there are lots of them, of how wreaths, pictures and so forth can go to your head if you believe all of it."

How has Seton Hall managed to go through without a loss, thus far?

"Well, we've been very, very lucky, particularly in several key games, and the kids have never lost their pulse," Russell said. "We had to change our whole style of play in one week because we lost Arnie King and Jim Ahearn just before the season started."

"With those guys, who are both big and fast, we were going to play strictly fast-break basketball, with no pivot plays and very little outside shooting. But they were declared ineligible because of marks, and we had to shift to pivot plays and outside shooting."

high scorer with 21 points. Billy Bert Baker got 16 to pace the balanced platoon-system Wonder Boys.

Arkansas State Teachers dropped a 107-98 non-league decision to the Memphis Naval Air Station. Navy's Ron Everson ran up a 28-point total to top the individuals. Teachers' Bill McCurley hit 26,

DeMarco Sprains Ankle, Fights Off

BOSTON (AP)—A sprained ankle suffered during road work will keep New York lightweight Paddy DeMarco out of his scheduled nationally televised boxing bout with Babe Herman of Los Angeles at Boston Arena Saturday night.

DeMarco originally was signed to meet lightweight contender Johnny Gonsalves of Oakland, Calif., but Gonsalves contracted a case of poison oak. Then yesterday DeMarco's injury was announced by promoter Sam Silverman of the Callahan A. C.

Replacing DeMarco in the ten rounder will be Harold (Baby Face) Jones of Detroit. The fight will go on the American Broadcasting Company cable with New England blacked out. Jones and Herman each hold a decision over the other.

Pros Draft Three Porker Grid Players

PHILADELPHIA, (AP)—Lewis Carpenter of Arkansas was the second back from the Southwest Conference to be chosen in yesterday's pro football draft.

The first ball carrier picked up from that league in the 1953 selections was Gub Dawson of Texas.

Carpenter, a fullback who was kept out of action by injuries much of the 1952 season, was drafted by the National League's Champion Detroit Lions in the eighth round. The Lions already boast such Southwestern backfield stars as Don Walker of SMU and Bobby Layne of Texas, and late last season acquired Clyde Scott, another former Arkansas standout, from the Philadelphia Eagles.

Other Razorbacks drafted were Johnny Cole, a defensive back, and Buddy Sutton, a back who plays both offense and defense, by the Baltimore Colts.

Fritz Ehren, College of the Ozarks' triple-threat star, was the only Arkansas Inter-collegiate Conference player picked. Los Angeles took him in the 30th and final round.

There were other gridmen with Arkansas backgrounds who were grabbed up by the pros. James Brewster, Tulsa tackle who was a high school star at Smackover, Ark., was drafted by Baltimore. Philadelphia picked up Royal Bailey, former Little Rock JC and Tulsa back, and Eli Romero, another ball carrier who played freshman ball at the University of Arkansas before switching to Wichita University.

Other selections from the Southwest Conference included:

San Francisco—Tom Stohanske, Texas end; Charles Gonthier, Texas tackle.

Detroit—Harley Sewell, Texas guard; Carlton McCormick, TCU center.

Green Bay—Bill Forester, SMU tackle; Charles Wrenn, TCU tackle; Bill Georges, Texas end; Phil Luckey, Baylor tackle; John Harville, TCU back.

Baltimore—Jack Little, Texas A&M tackle; Bill Athey, Baylor guard; Bob Blair, TCU end; Ray Graves, Texas A&M back.

CHICAGO Bears—John Hatley, Baylor tackle; Wayne Martin, TCU end.

WASHINGTON—Darrow Hooper, Texas A&M end and traded to New York.

NEW YORK—Dan Drake, Rice back; Don Rhodes, Rice center; Cleveland—Bill Crockett, Rice guard; Jack Sisco, Baylor center; Chicago Cards—C. O. Brocato, Baylor center.

another high-scoring performance in the books today to move their unbeaten teams ahead another stride.

The six-foot, 11-inch Dukes, leading major-college scorer in the nation with a 27.8 points-per-game average, racked up 25 markers to lead Seton Hall, the nation's No. 1 team, to its 19th straight triumph by a 103-85 score over Memphis State.

The amazing, six-foot, nine-inch Francis, leading small-college scorer with a 49.5 average, was "held" to 42 points as Little Rio Grande College of Ohio gained its 24th straight win of the season, 79-34, over the Cincinnati Bible Seminary.

CHAPTER THIRTY-FIVE

DEBORAH cut another piece of cake and put it on his plate. "The poor man—he doesn't realize..."

She said, after a moment, "You don't know much about communities—such as Sweethome?"

He gave her a puzzled look. "No, is there something I should know?"

She had got herself into this—she had to go on. "One thing—you can't belong to a place like this just by wanting to. Or by buying and setting into the biggest house here."

"You mean, I'd remain an outsider?"

"For a time—yes, I'm afraid you would. Maybe always. I don't think such an attitude is peculiar to this village or to New England villages—I dare say you'd find it in any small community. It may be some instinct of self-protection. I'm—I suspect, I ran away from here, a long time ago, and because of the circumstances of that and those which followed, I forfeited my belonging. I can't even claim this house in which I was born as really mine."

He looked astonished, and as if he did not want to believe her. She was spilling this dream he'd been cherishing for some time, she knew. Well, she might as well go the whole way.

"You see, you've one big count against you right at the start. Over half of the men of Sweethome were at the Brent plant. Their fathers did before them. It's their security. Now, by the talk, it is seriously threatened and they lay that at your door. Unjustly, perhaps—but it's only human in them to do so."

He gave her the same troubled, regretful look he had given her as they walked out of the church and she marveled at it as she had then. He said, "I'm sorry about this situation, Mrs. Brent. Of course, there is competition—I've had that to deal with for the past fifteen years. It's part of manufacturing—you have to be alive to it every minute, if you are to keep going."

"And that's what Willie hasn't thought about," Deborah grimly.

He went on, "I know of the way she belonged back in Jack-

CHAPTER THIRTY-SIX

DEBORAH said, "Yes," and felt like saying, "Whew," in Martha Purdy's manner, as she watched the big car back out of the driveway. It was well after five—Susan might see it; the neighbors across the road... It would be known all through the village by tomorrow. Yet she could summon not the slightest compunction for spending the afternoon with him. For jumping within two hours into an intimacy which, with others, would take months or more to reach. Late, the next afternoon, Susan came over with her newspaper. "Aunt Debbie, how could you?" Her voice shook with feeling.

"You mean—let Rudolph Peterson come here?"

"Yes, when you know..."

"Susan, have you forgotten what John Wendell said last Sunday? About trying to know the real nature of a thing rather than accepting it as what we think it is? Or something like that..."

"But we do know this," said Susan. "Everyone does! And you're one of the family! It's—it's awfully hard for me to understand."

It came to Deborah's lips to tell Susan, word for word, what Rudolph Peterson had said, then she remembered it had been said in confidence. She controlled her voice to a quiet tone. "Perhaps some time you'll see it differently, Susan. Until then I wish you would trust my judgment about what is loyal and what isn't. Thanks for bringing me my paper. Can't you stay and eat supper with me? I'm not home."

"Not yet? No, I must go back. Father—some of her time, thanks," Susan went quickly out of the kitchen.

Deborah watched her cross the yard, saddened that this had come between them—she realized how fond she had grown of Susan. "And there isn't anything I can do!"

Diligently Pray For The Work of Your Church

Have Faith in yourself, your fellow man, your country, your church. Whenever you and I doubt either God or man, we would do well to think of Jesus.

Life becomes a radiant thing for people of Faith. Faith can overcome the most miserable circumstances... overcome despair. The universe opens its heart to eyes of faith; closed doors swing ajar when faithful steps approach; loving spirits smile their welcome to trustworthy souls; latent powers blossom in the presence of fidelity. God waits to shower His blessings on men who can be trusted... MEN OF FAITH.

Kennan Didn't Mean to Be Critical
By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
WASHINGTON (AP) — Ambassador George Kennan is understood to have written Secretary of State Dulles a note explaining that a speech Kennan made last Friday night was not designed as criticism of Dulles' testimony the day before to a Senate committee.

Dulles is expected to talk with the veteran diplomat, an expert on Soviet affairs, in a few days to determine whether and to what extent there may be a basic difference between the two men on what kind of policy the United States should have toward Soviet satellite nations.

In his testimony before the Senate Foreign Relations Committee a week ago yesterday, Dulles said the policy which aims only at containing Russian expansion is "an unsound policy." And he expressed conviction that a positive policy for the liberation of satellite countries must be developed.

"It must be and can be a peaceful process," he said. "Those who do not believe that results can be obtained by moral pressures, by the weight of propaganda, just do not know what they are talking about."

Ike Still Has to Outline His Full Plans

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (AP) — It's when he delivers his State of the Union message to Congress, probably within a couple of weeks, that President Eisenhower may get down to details on what he intends to do.

His inaugural address yesterday simply outlined his position: he is now, as before election, as internationalist. It was reassurance to this country's allies if they had any doubt.

Former President Truman, in almost all his farewell messages, talks and interviews, gave very little space to domestic problems. He put the big emphasis on foreign affairs.

Eisenhower did the same thing yesterday. And in general he pledged himself to follow Truman's basic foreign program.

He wants good world trade and continued foreign aid for, and co-operation with, American allies. He's willing to seek disarmament. The latter probably won't happen.

But Eisenhower indicated he may be thinking of plans that go beyond Truman's. In the campaign he criticized the Truman administration for a lack of what he said he considered effective planning against Russia.

Buried in one of the paragraphs in yesterday's speech Eisenhower seemed to be repeating this criticism and hinting he intended to raise his sights higher.

This was when he said it is proper "we assure our friends... that we... know... the difference... between a thoughtfully calculated goal and a spasmodic reaction to the stimulus of emergencies."

Spasmodic in the beginning of the cold war with Russia, although it could hardly be called a plan at all at that time.

Truman said recently his suspicions of Russia began in earnest shortly after the war when Stalin wouldn't pull his troops out of Iran.

Truman decided on a showdown right there. He warned Stalin to get out. Stalin did. Truman's quick action, and reaction, paid off. He reacted again when the Communists began to push against Greece and Turkey.

That time he set up a new Monroe Doctrine by throwing this country's arm around Greece and Turkey and giving them aid. The Communists lost out.

The Marshall Plan for helping Europe recover economically was of a longer-range nature. It was supposed to last at the outside four years. Before it could end, the cold war with Russia became hotter.

Then this country entered into the North Atlantic Pact, this country's first peacetime military alliance with Western Europe, and gave arms. At the same time the U.S. urged its allies to set up a European army.

This looked much further into the future than the Marshall Plan. In fact, then Secretary of State Acheson last year said strong armaments might be necessary for a generation.

This policy worked out by Truman and Acheson — surrounding Russia with armed strength to discourage any Russian military adventures without starting war with Russia — has become known as "containment."

So at the end Truman and Acheson might argue there was nothing spasmodic about their planning. What Eisenhower has in mind beyond this remains to be seen.

If Eisenhower doesn't spell out his ideas in ABC fashion, in his State of the Union message, he will have time to do so when he later submits his specific programs to Congress.

Today people can expect to live 68 years—twice as long as when George Washington was president. And if life expectancy improves as it has, statistics show humans will eventually outlast their venerable ancestor, the turtle. But...

How well you live is as important as how long you live. And how well you live depends largely on how well you can afford to live. So...

If your living depends on selling any product, assure a good living for yourself by insisting that product be advertised in newspapers—the medium that reaches the people you want to sell. The people who can buy.
